

School of Public Policy

BILLIE FORTIER

Executive Fellow

Energy & Natural Resources
Policy

Billie Fortier represents Indigenous communities and businesses in negotiations with resource companies to establish joint ventures and other business relationships.

She advises the leadership of First Nations and Métis governments on a variety of matters, including corporate structuring of Indigenous-owned businesses, financial administration and governance, including drafting laws and bylaws. She also advises clients across a number of industries on general commercial matters and in connection with mergers and acquisitions and corporate reorganizations.

Billie has appeared before the Court of King's Bench of Alberta and the Provincial Court of Alberta, and has experience with regulatory proceedings before the Alberta Utilities Commission, the Alberta Energy Regulator and the Impact Assessment Agency of Canada. She is a member of the Fort McKay First Nation.