Eddy is the former CEO of Alberta Innovates – Energy & Environment Solutions and a past-President of the Canadian Academy of Engineering. Eddy has spent his career promoting innovation in energy and environment across Canada and in forging partnerships between industry, government, and academia. He served as co-Chair of the Energy Technology Working Group of the Canadian Council of Energy Ministers. In 2014, he received the ASTECH Foundation’s award for his outstanding contribution to the Alberta science and technology community. In December 2025, Eddy became a Member of the Order of Canada, receiving recognition for decades of contributions to innovation in Alberta and across Canada, and his service in advancing collaborative research and technology partnerships.

Eddy holds a PhD from the University of Alberta and a BSc from McGill University. He has over 80 publications and 6 patents in the energy field.
