

Master of Public Policy Reference Letter Guidelines

In 600 words or fewer, please provide background on the applicant (including their full name) for review by the admissions committee. Please address the candidate's readiness for a rigorous graduate program of study, your experience working with them as a student, or employee, and how they compare to others you have supervised or taught. Where relevant, you may also comment on their aptitude in the following areas:

- Leadership skills
- Critical thinking
- Analytical skills
- Interest in public policy, economics or political science
- Communication skills written and verbal (including English if not their first language)
- Time management
- Commitment to learning, growth, and development
- Teamwork/collaboration skills

Please include your name, title, organization, and email address at the bottom of the letter.

Admission to our Master of Public Policy program is competitive. We greatly appreciate the time and effort you invest in providing this reference. Your input is valuable in helping us make informed admissions decisions.
